

Drumming up support for music lessons

Last Updated Saturday, 05 September 2009

Drumming up support for music lessons Following the article from the Herald on September 3, 2009 by Robin Usher <http://www.smh.com.au/news/entertainment/music/drumming-up-support-for-music-lessons/2009/09/02/1251570749796.html>, it is important to acknowledge that music is important for the brain development for young children. We are encouraging Parents and Music educators to join us on 18th and 28th of September for the MUSIC IS THE LANGUAGE OF THE BRAIN workshops. The workshops will be conducted by Dr. Christobel Llewellyn, founder of Kinderjazz. More information: <http://www.gokids.com.au/content/view/533/108/> Contact (02) 9881 5890 or 0409 223 282 for more information